

Green Light

I wrote this while waiting at a broken stop light. Traffic was backed up a very long ways and one or two cars would get through when it turned green. It is also a reference to the feeling of “let’s get this going” in a relationship or event.

Mark Henry Ham